

Architectural section drawing of a building interior, showing a long, low structure with multiple seating areas and hanging lamps. The drawing is labeled with "OPEN ENTRY" and various callouts (S7, S8, S9) indicating specific features or materials.

[illegible]

The diagram shows a cross-section of a three-story building. On each floor, there are three horizontal bars representing smoke detectors, labeled S1. The detectors are positioned in the middle of each floor's width. The building has a central vertical shaft and structural columns.
